

GD/HR breakfast seminars 2011

We run an annual series of hugely popular FREE employment breakfast seminars which are aimed at Managing Directors, HR Directors and Managers, Finance Directors and those responsible for HR matters. Below are details of the seminars we are running in 2011. To reserve your place please see overleaf. Please book early as the seminars are popular and spaces are allocated on a first come first served basis.

Key points for employers from the new Equality Act

9th February 2011 – 8am

The Equality Act came into force at the beginning of October 2010. An understanding of the new Act, which consolidates existing legislation and increases the scope of disability discrimination, is fundamental to employers. We will be highlighting the areas of the Act you should be aware of and giving practical tips.

Elevation

12th May 2011 – 8.15am (limited places)

David Smith, former People Director of Asda, will be this years speaker at our annual Elevation conference.

David will talk about the key to successful employee engagement and the business benefits of a fully engaged workforce, particularly during times of major change.

Employment Update

14th September 2011 – 8am

We will highlight some of the key employment legislative developments and cases occurring during 2011.

We will also give a “heads up” for developments to look out for in 2012.

Will you still need me now I’m 65?

16th November 2011 – 8am

How will you deal with your ageing workforce? With the default retirement age and statutory retirement procedures abolished from October 2011, we discuss the options for your business for managing poor performance issues and the options open to you for dismissal.
